Production Description

FRP Pultrusion Products

Waste water plant FRP Fiberglass cover floor sewage pool cover

*Light weight High strength Anti-corrosion

FRP Pultruded products are made by assembling FRP pultrusions which are manufactured with a high percentage of glass fiber roving soaked with resin and finally designed to desired shapes by heating and pultrusion. Pultrusion is a continuous process in which the glass fibres, glass matting and synthetic surface veil are literally pulled simultaneously through a polyester or vinyl ester resin bath. the desired geometric shape is formed as they are pulled through a heated steel die and as the composite hardens. Pultruded products are light weight, strong , chemical and UV resistance with less maintenance, Pultruded products are well suited for high corrosion environments and offers very high load bearing capacity
