Production Description

Work System of Sewage Pool FRP Cover:

After adding FRP cover above the sewage pool, the exhaust gas generated in the sewage pool is isolated from the air, and an air outlet is added to the surface of the gas collecting hood. Meanwhile, a ventilation pipe is installed. The exhaust gas enters the exhaust gas purification tower from the ventilation pipe. To increase the exhaust gas collection, a fiberglass fan is installed in front of the purification tower, and the exhaust gas is sucked into the purification tower, and the exhaust gas is sprayed in two stages in the tower. If the exhaust gas is acidic, it is absorbed by the alkali liquid circulation. If the exhaust gas is alkaline, it is sprayed and absorbed by the acid liquid to reach the relevant standard and discharge, and the air quality is improved, to protect the environment and other purposes.
